

NY Filmmakers seek local talent for short film funded in part by the Jerome Foundation.

“Grandpa” is about a small town dancer who has to deal with her emotions in an environment where reality is taboo when she learns her grandfather has just died.

We have featured non-speaking roles available--(one day commitment)
Men aged 50-75 preferred

The Director and Cinematographer are award winning filmmakers whose films have screened at over 30 festivals nationally and internationally, including Sundance and Cannes.

If interested please contact us immediately with headshot and resume.

Email to columbiauniversityfilm@gmail.com